FOR MATRICULATES DEFICIENT IN GREEK

For men deficient in Greek the required first-year subjects are equally divided into two groups, the corresponding classes to be designated Class B Juniors and Class A Juniors. Class B Juniors are required to take five hours a week of beginning Greek grammar in addition to half of the required subjects of the Junior year. The schedule of a full year's work is filled up from credit electives chosen from minors. Beginning with the second year these students become Class A Juniors, taking beginning Hebrew and regular Junior (advanced) Greek, together with the required Junior subjects not covered in the first year and sufficient credit electives to complete a full schedule. At the opening of the third year this class is advanced to full Middle year standing, the plan requiring four years for the completion of the work leading to the Th.B. degree. The only course not carrying credit in this plan being the prerequisite work in beginning Greek. Applicants who have had Greek in college and pass the entrance examination are admitted to full standing as Juniors and may complete the course leading to the Th.B. degree in three years.

DESCRIPTION OF COURSES

I. Systematic Theology and Apologetics

The object of this school of the curriculum is to present a comprehensive treatment of Systematic Theology, incorporating, in addition to the usual treatment of the subject, the more extensive demands of the premillenarian interpretation of the Scriptures. Following the Prolegomena seven major divisions of the subject are recognized, and the supreme aim of the course is to ground the student in the teaching of the Scriptures under each of these divisions. The lecture method is followed, combined with comparison of classroom instruction with collateral matter from standard works on theology. The student has before him also printed copies of extensive analytical questionnaires prepared by the professor.

101 SYSTEMATIC THEOLOGY

- (1) PROLEGOMENA. Nature and sources of theology.
 - (2) BIBLIOLOGY. Seven aspects of the subject are considered.
 - (3) THEOLOGY PROPER. This subject is divided into two main divisions: (a) Theism; (b) Trinitarianism.
 - (4) ANGELOLOGY. Under a threefold treatment the entire revelation concerning the angels of God is investigated.
 - (5) ANTHROPOLOGY. The subject takes a fivefold analysis. Prescribed, first year, six hours.
- PROFESSOR L. S. CHAFER.

102 SYSTEMATIC THEOLOGY

- (6) SOTERIOLOGY. Because of the importance of this division in its bearing upon intelligent gospel preaching, an entire semester is devoted to its study. This subject is treated under two major divisions: (a) The Savior; (b) Salvation, including the divine undertaking and its result.
 - (7) ECCLESIOLOGY. This division includes much not generally treated under this subject. The aim is to examine exhaustively the second Pauline revelation, namely, the doctrine of the true Church, which occupies a large place in the structure of Christian truth.
 - (8) ESCHATOLOGY. This course contemplates all in the Scriptures which was predictive at the time of its utterance. Together with the broader treatment of ecclesiology, as outlined above, this course covers that which is necessary for an untrammled method in Biblical exposition. Prescribed, second year, six hours.
- PROFESSOR L. S. CHAFER.

- 103 (9) DOCTRINAL SUMMARIZATION. In this course about one hundred and eighty-five doctrines are treated.
Prescribed, third year, six hours.

- 105 EVIDENCES OF CHRISTIANITY. General introduction, followed by a consideration of the various classes of evidences.
Prescribed, first year, one hour.
PROFESSOR R. T. CHAFER.
- 106 BIBLICAL HERMENEUTICS. Throughout the course the following threefold thesis is maintained:
(a) That the Bible is a self-interpreting book, throwing light upon its own great themes and disclosing the divine purpose in relation thereto; (b) that these inherent laws of interpretation are discoverable; (c) and that compliance with these laws in Bible study is necessary to a true understanding of the divine revelation. The course follows a syllabus prepared by the professor.
Prescribed, first year, one hour.
PROFESSOR R. T. CHAFER.

III. New Testament Literature and Exegesis

This department endeavors to train the student to do careful exegetical work in the Greek New Testament. In the first half of the undergraduate course great stress is laid on the mastery of forms and the acquisition of a working vocabulary; in the second half, on the study of syntax and work in exegesis. Use is made of the new light shed on the Greek of the New Testament by the papyri, the ostraca, and the inscriptions. Such works as Deissmann's Bible Studies and Light from the Ancient East, Milligan's Here and There Among the Papyri and Selections from the Greek Papyri, and Moulton and Milligan's Vocabulary of the Greek New Testament are available in the library.

- 300 THE ELEMENTS OF GREEK. This is an introductory course and is intended for the student who has had no Greek or who needs a review in the elements of the language. Davis' Beginner's Grammar of the Greek New Testament is the text used.
Prerequisite year, ten hours, but not credited toward a degree.
MR. SIEGEL.
- 301 INTRODUCTION TO THE NEW TESTAMENT. The formation, history and extent of the canon; introduction, including date, authenticity, authorship, etc., to the books of the New Testament; textual criticism; New Testament archæology.
Prescribed, first year, two hours.
PROFESSOR THIESSEN.
- 302 JUNIOR GREEK. During the first semester a thorough review is made of the elements of Greek. This is followed by more advanced work in Robertson and Davis' New Short Grammar of the Greek Testament in the second semester. John's Gospel is read with care.
Prescribed, first year, four hours.
PROFESSOR THIESSEN.
- 303 MIDDLE GREEK. The first semester is spent in the study of syntax. During the second semester the student begins work in Robertson's Grammar of the Greek New Testament in the Light of Historical Research. During the first semester the student reads rapidly the Gospel of Mark; during the second semester he reads I Corinthians, and begins to do work in exegesis.
Prescribed, second year, four hours.
PROFESSOR THIESSEN.
- 304 SENIOR GREEK. The student continues the study of Robertson's Grammar of the Greek New Testament. Advanced work is done in syntax, with special emphasis upon the cases, the prepositions, and the verb. During the first semester the Epistle to the Romans is read. Vocabulary and outline of the book are mastered, and work in exegesis is continued. During the second semester the student does exegetical work in the Epistle to the Hebrews.
Prescribed, third year, six hours.
PROFESSOR THIESSEN.

The graduate department is planned for the student who wishes to specialize in the Greek Testament. The courses are so arranged that he may do work in all the books of the New Testament under the guidance of the professor. This becomes possible by beginning specialization in Greek in the Senior year and by offering certain courses in alternate years, some in regular class work and others in seminars. Thus a Senior may take courses 311 or 314 concurrently with the prescribed work in the department and the remaining courses in two more years of resident study.

- 311 ADVANCED GRAMMAR. This course aims to take up such parts of Robertson's Grammar of the Greek New Testament as have not been covered in previous courses and to review the parts not fully mastered by this time. The Epistle to the Galatians and the Second Epistle to the Corinthians are read as exercises in grammatical study. May be taken concurrently with 304.
Elective, four hours, 1935-1936.
PROFESSOR THIESSEN.
- 312 TEXTUAL CRITICISM. An effort is made in this course to familiarize the student with the methods of textual criticism, so that he may not only understand the commentaries in their discussions of the various readings, but also be himself able to evaluate the readings. Prerequisite, course 304.
Elective, two hours, first semester, 1936-1937.
PROFESSOR THIESSEN.
- 313 THE SEPTUAGINT. A brief study is made of the origin and literary value of the Septuagint, and various selections are read. The Old Testament in Greek, 3 vols., by Swete, is the text used. New Testament and classical Greek grammars, Liddell and Scott's Greek-English Lexicon, and various commentaries on Old Testament books are used. Prerequisite, course 304.
Elective, two hours, second semester, 1937-1938.
PROFESSOR THIESSEN.
- 314 THE ESCHATOLOGICAL EPISTLES AND THE REVELATION. A whole year is spent in the Epistles to the Thessalonians, the Epistles of Jude and 2 Peter, and the Revelation. This course is a combination recitation and lecture course. By permission from the professor this course may be taken concurrently with 304.
Elective, six hours, 1935-1936.
PROFESSOR THIESSEN.

IV. Sacred History

In this school of the curriculum the method of instruction is largely by means of lectures and recitation, together with assigned reading of standard works on the various subjects. An outstanding feature of the work in this department is that, in the interpretation of the history of the visible Church, the truth regarding the unique nature and calling of the New Testament Church is at no time obscured. This is of vital importance, as failure to recognize the purpose of God in this dispensation has resulted, and necessarily so, in a wrong interpretation of Church History.

PROFESSOR LEACH AND MR. FEINBERG.
- 402 CHURCH HISTORY. From the close of the Apostolic Age to the Reformation.

velopment of Scholasticism; the Reformation and Counter Reformation, the formulation of the Creeds, Protestant and Catholic; the modern influence of philosophy and scientific research upon theology. Text: History of Christian Doctrine, Fisher. Prescribed, third year, four hours.

VII. Comparative Religions and Archaeology

- 701 RELIGIONS, ANCIENT AND MODERN. At no point in this course is the Christian faith compromised by this comparative study, but rather its unique char-

TERMS OF ADMISSION

It is the aim of the College to maintain a high standard of reverent scholarship. Students planning to enter the Christian ministry are urged to complete, whenever practicable, a regular classical course at some Christian college. An applicant for admission to matriculation and enrollment as a student in the College must present to the Registrar the following credentials:

1. A student applying for admission by letter and not known by any member of the faculty should present the names of pastors or others of known Christian standing, to whom inquiries may be sent concerning the following: Evidence that the applicant is born again, is yielded to the will of God, and is endowed with ministry gifts.

2. A college diploma or an equivalent certificate of the completion of a regular academic course. Exceptions to this rule, necessarily few in number, are confined to experienced Christian workers who give evidence of possessing the natural gifts and literary proficiency required for a satisfactory pursuit of a course in theology. The number of such admissions will be determined by available room space.

DIPLOMAS, CERTIFICATES AND DEGREES

On completion of the prescribed course of study with satisfactory grades students who hold the degree of A.B. or its academic equivalent receive a diploma carrying the degree of Bachelor of Theology (Th.B.). Students who have not taken full college training, but complete this course satisfactorily, receive a diploma without degree. A student who takes a part of this course, passing the required grades, may receive a certificate specifying the work completed.

THE GRADUATE SCHOOL

Courses of study leading to the degrees of Master of Theology (Th.M.) and Doctor of Theology (Th.D.) are provided. Men who have had both regular academic and seminary training and hold the degrees of A.B. and B.D., or their respective academic and theological equivalents, may be candidates for the graduate course degrees provided in all cases such candidates have included in their theological training courses satisfying standard requirements in Hebrew and Greek.

Master of Theology Degree

Thirty semester hours of classroom and thesis work are required for the completion of the course leading to the Th.M. degree, apportioned as follows: twenty semester hours to be devoted to a major subject in the general field of one of the following departments of the curriculum: namely, Systematic Theology, Semitic Languages and Old Testament Exegesis, New Testament Literature and Exegesis, and Sacred History. These twenty hours apportioned to the major shall be divided into a minimum of fourteen semester hours of classroom work and six semester hours to be credited for a satisfactory thesis on a subject chosen from the field of the major. The thesis, which must be characterized by literary excellence, shall contain not less than 10,000 words. Minor subjects covering not less than ten semester hours shall be chosen from any major departments of the curriculum not related to the major subject. The thesis, which must be typewritten and bound, shall become the property of the College.

Doctor of Theology Degree

Candidates for the degree of Th.D. must meet the following requirements:

1. The applicant must hold an A.B. degree, or its academic equivalent, and the B.D. degree, or its theological equivalent.
2. The applicant who holds these prerequisite degrees must complete a minimum of three years of additional work before receiving the Th.D. degree, two years of which must be taken in residence with the privilege of taking the third year in absentia.
3. A minimum of one year must be devoted to resident study in the College. Transfer credits from standard orthodox seminaries will be accepted to satisfy the residence requirements other than the minimum of one year required by the College.
4. An exhaustive oral examination will be required in the field of the major subject conducted before a committee of the Faculty by the professor in whose department the work is taken. Satisfactory written examinations shall satisfy the requirements of the minor subjects.
5. In addition to completing the courses leading to the oral and written examinations, each applicant is required to write a dissertation of not less than 50,000 words. The subject shall be chosen by the applicant in consultation with the major professor, and its development must show thorough preparation and excellent literary form. The dissertation must be filed with the major professor thirty days prior to the granting of the degree. The typewritten copies of this dissertation, properly bound, must be filed in the archives of the College and becomes the property of this institution. Should the applicant desire to publish the dissertation, he will be allowed to do so under conditions adopted by the Board of Regents.
6. The major study and subject of the dissertation may be chosen only under the rules governing this course. Minors shall be chosen from the elective courses of any of the other main divisions of the curriculum not related to the major.
7. No candidate for the degree of Doctor of Theology shall be allowed to receive this honor from the College who does not hold the system of truth essentially as set forth in the Doctrinal Statement of the College.

EXPENSES

There are no tuition fees. Dormitory rooms are furnished rent free, the student being required to furnish bed linen and towels only, although it is well for each student to furnish one or two extra blankets for use in the coldest weather. A small charge covering the room laundry work is made. A nominal charge for rooms will be made for occupancy during the summer vacation to cover the public service costs.

The College conducts a refectory under the management of a competent matron, excellent board being furnished at cost, which runs about $1.00 a day. The cost of textbooks the first year is about $25. After the first year the expense of textbooks is much less.

BIBLIOTHECA SACRA

A Century-Old Theological Quarterly

At the close of 1933 the Evangelical Theological College purchased and began to publish the century-old Bibliotheca Sacra, making it the organ of the theology and system of Biblical interpretation taught at this seminary.

Increased subscriptions and warm commendations from readers evidence the fact that the magazine is filling a long-felt need for scholarly presentations of theology based upon the whole counsel of God as presented in the Scriptures.

Pastors and advanced Bible students will find the variety of articles presented each quarter to be of inspirational as well as of theological value. The contents include expositions of the Scriptures, critical textual notes, archaeological news, book reviews and editorials on subjects of current interest. In its subject matter, this magazine is now departmentalized, representing the theological discipline indicated by its departmental editors.
